

Professional Footballer Acquitted

15 October 2020

A professional footballer has been cleared of outraging public decency, following an allegation arising from a train journey two years ago.

Kate Parker, instructed by Blackfords LLP, successfully defended the AFC Wimbledon player at trial at Kingston Crown Court.

The case received widespread national press coverage, including in The Mirror and The Sun.